WE NOMINATE

Michael Carnevale, one of the best-known figures along Nassau Street and a confirmed Princetonian for some 44 years, who is entering upon what he enjoys calling "my gradual year-to-year retirement that might take some time." With the sale of the Annex Restaurant, a family enterprise he and his brother-in-law, John Giantonio, have owned for almost two decades, the 65-year old Carnevale is exchanging long, long years of 12-to-15-hour work-days for the more limited responsibilities of now helping manage the highly regarded bar and grill for the new ownership, his young cousins, Henry and Louis Carnevale.

The "Carnevale story" is in the classic and heartening American tradition: the post-World War I immigrant from Italy whose energies, abilities and devotion have strengthened his adopted country and community. It was in 1922 that Carnevale followed his father to Princeton from his native province of Campobasso — trained as a cobbler, speaking no English, and with the equivalent of a fifth-grade education. In 1966, as delighted with his eight grandchildren as he is of his two sons and daughter, he can point to a record of accomplishment reminiscent of the success saga popularized early in this century by Horatio Alger.

With a circle of friendships encompassing all segments of the Princeton Community, Carnevale has only one word — "unbelievable" — when it comes to discussing the "improvements and changes I have seen in Princeton." As different as the Princeton of the late 1940's was from the somnolent town of the 1930's, it is, in his view, the past 10 years that have "turned this old place topsy-turvy." For instance, the serene and economically "slow" summer months of yesteryear have faded into memory and Carnevale, with the rising summertime uses of institutional facilities, would estimate that the balance sheets for many local businesses would today show only minor variances between July and October.

Carnevale, understandably proud that his operation of "The Annex" has never raised even a whisper of challenge on the part of the ABC (Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission), feels that he is an integral part of both Town and Gown. An employee of the University's Department of Grounds and Buildings in his early Princeton years, and subsequently a founder of both the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club of Princeton and the League of Roma Eterna, he knows countless members of the University faculty and staff and, on football weekends, looks forward to "welcoming back" many of the graduate and undergraduate students for whom over the years he has demonstrated a noteworthy degree of tolerance.

A quarter-century after his arrival in Princeton, Carnevale, a naturalized American citizen since 1928, the year he "brought my wife, Lucy, over from Italy," had an opportunity to leave the cobbling profession. In 1918 he and his brother-in-law purchased "The Old Annex," then in the niche currently occupied by The Flower Basket; two years later they moved to the Annex's present subterranean location. The payroll has gradually climbed to 18 full-time employees — to the satisfaction of such groups as the Tuesday Afternoon Luncheon, bringing together weekly for the past 11 years one of the East's most stimulating gatherings of "young men of letters of interest and probably promise."

For his remarkable understanding of the phenomena which are "Princeton 1966," for constantly seeking to bridge the gaps all too often separating the component parts of the community to which he is so deeply devoted; for giving substance to the belief that these United States are the "land of opportunity;" he is our nominee as

SCHOOL ELECTION SET

For Princeton Region. The first Board of Education school elected will be held on February 7. Voters will elect a nine-member board of education for that Princeton Regional Schools, replacing the acting board appointed Jan. 1 by County Commissioner Jack B. Twichell.

The ground rules were announced at last week's meeting of the Princeton Borough Council. Residents will elect four members, one to serve for one year, two to serve for two years, and one for a three-year term. The Borough will vote for five representatives, two to serve one-year terms, three to serve two-year terms and two for three-year terms.

Candidates have until 1 p.m. on December 29 to file. Applications may be obtained from Board Secretary Norman J. Anderson, 10 Nassau Street, Borough Administration Building. Candidates are required to state the length of the term they wish to serve.

Superintendent. The acting board also announced the appointment of three consultants to assist in screening candidates for school superintendent. "Clark" was chosen as principal candidate for this position. Dr. Harvey L. Rothberg, board president, stated he has done a remarkable job.

Professor Lawrence A. Cremin and Francis A. J. Fanni of Columbia University, Thomas R. Sizer of the Harvard School of Education will assist the board. Dr. Rothberg said that a decision will be made soon.

The acting board voted to hold its regular meeting on Tuesday, December 20 at 8 p.m. It adopted board policies covering such items as maximum compensation for employees, student interviews, visitors, school collections and class assignments.

A lengthy presentation on the special services offered in the school system was made by Dr. Donald Clark, director, and staff members.

SIAMESE TWINS BORN

In Hospital. In Hospital, Siamese twin girls were born Tuesday, November 22, in Princeton Hospital. It was revealed this week. The birth is believed to be the first of its kind in New Jersey.

Parents of the infants are Dr. and Mrs. James Cantrell, 94 Einstein Drive. Dr. Cantrell is a member of the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study. A day after their birth, the twins were taken to St. Christopher Hospital in Philadelphia where they will undergo surgery to separate them. The operation will be performed in about two weeks.

Spokesmen for Princeton Hospital refused to give information about the twins, or to indicate where they are joined. All information concerning the birth was omitted from the weekly list issued by the hospital to the press.

HEARINGS END

Township Roads. The Township Planning Board held its second and final hearing on its road proposals last week. The Road Sub-Committee of the board will now consider what residents and institutions have said, and make recommendations to the parent Board.

The Planning Board as a whole is scheduled to discuss its road situation at its December 7 meeting. A committee of Springfield residents concerned with the possible extension of Springfield, has been formed and will submit its findings to the Board. Indications are that the Board will modify its plan for the extension of Springfield to the major artery.

HOVING TO SPEAK

At University Conference. New York City Parks Commissioner Thomas P. F. Hoving will speak on urban problems in urban problems in New Jersey to be held next Wednesday, December 7, at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

"THE GROWING UP
"Nutcracker" Cast." Last

Christmas, Keith Thurn played the title role in the Princeton Regional Pallet production of "The Nutcracker."

Since then Fritz has gained a cult if two of stature, and so this Christmas he will play the title role again in a new,

Debbie hasn't shot up

so fast, so she will again be Clara.

IT'S A NUTCRACKER! Herr Drosselmeyer, host at that wonderful Christmas party, shows the Nutcracker to his delighted young guests. L. Wendell Estey will play Herr Drosselmeyer again this year in the 19th annual Christmas production of "The Nutcracker" at McCarter.

WONDERFUL PLAYERS — production and anyone in the community is eligible to try for a part.

Tryouts will be held on Saturday, November 28, and, if necessary, next Wednesday, in Murray Theatre on campus at 8:30 P.M. Auditions for the principal roles is not required for tryouts.

"The Absence of a Cello" will be given in Murray Theatre on December 13-14; 20-21, 27-28. Loren Zissman will direct.

ENCORE!

Pinter's "The Caretaker," Harold Pinter's classic of the absurd, will be presented by Theatre Intime on December 16, 17 and 18. Matinee seats are sold out, but there are still some evening seats available.

Buy a ticket to the show and you will buy a ticket to the Friday, December 16 performance. It starts at 8:30 P.M.

Other plays of the company who have danced "The Nutcracker," before are Pellegrini's "The Box" (last spring was the last time), and "Cox," (last spring was the last time), and "Cox," (last spring was the last time).

Ballet dancers appearing in leading roles are Kathy Richards (American Girl); Eva Gabor (Chimera); Diane Maxine Lampert (Candy Cane); and Gedfrey Nelson as Fritz.

JOINT PRODUCTION SET

At Lawrence High, Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented by the Princeton Opera Company and the Princeton Ballet Society Saturday at 11 a.m. in Lawrence High School Auditorium.

The production will be sponsored by the Ben Franklin School P.T.A. tickets, which are on sale at the Franklin School, cost $1 for children, $1.50 for older students and $2 for adults.

THE PROFESSIONALS

At Princeton Theatre, "A Taste of Honey" (Caretaker)" is being formed, directed by Mrs. Robert E. Clancy of 6 Newlin Road. "Our aim is to encourage the Princeton theatres to show one family movie every week."

Mrs. Clancy has worked alone for several years to pressure Palmer Square Into booking films for the Playhouse and the Garden that are suitable for children and teenagers.

Among those who are lining up solidly behind her on the new committee are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. and Mrs. Alfred Bernhardt, Mrs. Basil Robinson and Mrs. H. Richard Parsons.

NEED CHOICE. "I feel there should be more of a choice of films for children during the holidays," says "Especially during the holidays. We don't object to the movies they are showing, but we do object to the way they are showing them, town, but when they do show children's films, they don't all come from good studios. There are a lot of good family-type films that are not coming to the Princeton theatres."

Knight, manager of the Playhouse and the Garden told Town Topics. "We do run children's movies occasionally, but we do it in such a way that when they are shown, they lose their appeal. I have few people coming. I find it's better to have them here on an occasional, rather than on a regular basis."

John Dugan, manager of Dugan's, didn't feel for some reason, he said, "Circus World," with John Wayne, which cost $2.50, will be poorly attended if one matinee had

Parents' Groups. The Borough PTA last winter began exploring the possibility of producing a short film series for youngsters, according to Mrs. J. Stuart Hunter, then president of the PTA.

The Witherspoon School
PTA "We gave serious consideration to the idea,"

The PTA did sponsored the Children's Entertainment Series in response to requests from parents and from the children." The complex arrangements for moving day, when Nassau and the Witherspoon schools closed, put the plan in abeyance.

The Littlebrook Elementary School PTA has for some years sponsored a children's series as a baby-sitting convenience on the parent's part.

The film is obtained from a national distributor at a cost of $100 per film. The subject and operator are supplied by the school.

"My personal feeling," Mrs.
Walter, an Anglo Littlebrook PTA president, says, "is that many times there are no more suitable babysitters. But the children are not movie oriented. They don't have to go to the movies every Saturday."

The Family Movie Committee,
according to Mrs. Clancy, will rent their own film, if an arrangement can't eventually be worked out with the Playhouse.

Parents interested in the group should contact
Mrs. Clancy or write to the Family
Movie Committee at 51 Palmer Square.

Topics of The Town

The committee's four volunteer sub-committees are working on problems associated with planning for a new school. The time-table set by the State Commissioner of Education requires that each Montgomery Township board of education submit a preliminary plan within a few months. Those with suggestions will make them in the near future. The committee has appointed Dr. Louis Shor, chairman of the Curriculum Committee; William Abramson, chairman of the committee on curriculum; Arthur Abrams, chairman of the sub-committee on finance; Mrs. R. E. Bent, chairman of the sub-committee on activities; or William Pauley chairman of the sub-committee on building.

SCHOOLS ARE TARGETS
Of Vandals. Intruders. The Hun School, Valley Road and Littlebrook schools were visited by police and investigators over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Dr. Paul Chesebro, Hun Headmaster, called Township police Saturday morning to report that someone had entered the main entrance of the previous night and removed a dictating machine from his office valued below $500 and $300. From there, the intruders proceeded to the Poe Lounge and stole a TV set, also valued below $500 and $300. An attempt to enter the school's mainroom by removing pins from the door hinge was foiled.

Dr. Chesebro told police the main front doors are never locked. He said that most students were not in school at the time because of the holiday.

A passing motorist alerted Township police at 9:55 Sunday evening when he told them he thought he saw someone breaking into the Valley Road School. Investigating, police said they found a window had been shattered, someone reaching in and unlock a rear door.

The child guidance room, music room and gymnasium were sacked. It is unknown what, if anything, was taken. Detective Fred Benner said that police believe they were able to scare the perpetrators away before they took anything.

William Birch, Littlebrook School superintendent, called Monday morning to report that someone had tried to burn the school's main steel off doors located on the south side of the school leading from the playground. In a statement, police said that apparently a small butane torch was used. The doors were blackened and singed.

Five windows in the vicinity of the doors had been broken by rocks.

Apartment Entered Monday afternoon, Guessous called Borough police to report Monday afternoon to report that someone had entered his apartment between 11:15 and 12:30 by slipping the front lock.

Items known to be taken are a portable typewriter and a portable radio. The person's apartment is in the building at 372 Nassau Street.

On Saturday, someone entered an open garage door to gain entry to the home at 40 Gladys Lane, according to Dr. Cille Kahn, the owner, told police she had left the garage door open that morning for the garage.

Police said that entry was gained apparently through a garage door leading to the living room. There were no signs of forced entry.

Police reported that all dressers, desks and closets in the bedroom were ransacked and women's clothing strewn about the room. They added, there was no lacey as a valuable find and set of pearls were not been recovered. The reported missing was a $10 pair of women's slippers.

It would be less than honest to call it a station wagon.

We can't look you square in the eye and call this car a station wagon.

Compared to our bus-like station wagon,
it just isn't big enough to deserve the name.

But we can positively call it a Square-back Sedan.

So we will. It's a Squareback Sedan.
It costs $2,295.* And this is what you get:

You get a Volkswagen that holds 5 people plus a decent amount of luggage. (Or 2 people plus an indecent amount of luggage: twice as much as the trunks of the biggest sedans.)

You get everything that we've learned about making Volkswagens: the air-cooled rear engine, the torsion bar suspension, the synchromesh transmission, the blobless finish, the airtight fit.

You also get some things you never got on a VW: more power, disc brakes in the front, seats that adjust 49 ways, and a dozen other innovations.

But good as it is, a bus it's not.

So if you want to be brutally honest, you can think of the Squareback as a less-than-perfect station wagon.

But we'd rather have you think of it as a more-than-perfect sedan.

What's That Other Art?

You won't find Aristotle contemplating the bust of Homer, although there are hundreds here that designers might explore... but, now, you may not find Rembrandt's "The Night Watch" or any other painting from the clothing shop. We begin with . . .

Peruvian geometrics: Elle has Boni's Mich's short, intense style with inverted rectangles in molten red, orange, yellow, and black. They are simple, bold, and red in ancient geometric forms taken from the Incas. They can see you coming all the way from Peru.

Gaujot: "Reverberant" is the wool dress by Marek is in the style of Gaudi's Sagrada Familia, designed with high neck, no sleeves and full skirt below a bowed waistline, $45.

Picasso: No eyes or heads, but Picasso colors and shapes in St. Ives' first cocktail dress of sheer silk over a pink sheath, $55.

Op Art: Cummings' silver-silver evening bags are either op art squares in shades of silver or an overlay of over all silver, $12.50.

Miss Op Art: Donna's silver-silver shift matches those evening bags square for square, if "square" is the word for the kind of swinger who would wear that dress.

Smart: More Op Art! This is the new New-Yorkeesque and very much of nickel-sized palettes: a row of silver, a row of black, with shifting patterns as the bright discs move the light. And how they rustle!

King: King caravans at Eng-bill Shop and UStore!, a "young man's coat," and that includes everybody we know. The coat is lined with taffeta, the lining is a black oil pile. English Shop? Mighty Mac is beside itself with excitement, the lining is silk with different lengths, from $125, and what a present that would be.

Army-Navy's warmer is pineapple corduroy with a pineapple pattern on the patch pocket.

Wool pea-jackets, on shore

you do? The jacket at Army

Another Richard's boot is a slip-on, made with rubber sole. This one comes 'way above the ankle, for those deep-set ankles.

An ankle shoe in this shop looks like a fine jodhpur boot at $27.50. Its lower, short heel comes in a shiny buckled style for $23.00.

Why not give him a Boston boot? It's a brown leather boot with a tan sole, $12.00 and comes in smoky or pebble finishes.

Bamberger's loafer is so well-made, it's stamped ing sole to upper. It comes in Everywhere... The scents of the season will greet you when you walk into Thorne's, Germaine Monteil's "Royal

here. It's a perfume with a the drawer paper, and quarter-size linings. It's a perfume with monogram (GM a box for $5.

Same packaging, in fus-cia with gold ribbon, is almost festivity itself. Thorne's urges you to buy a bottle of bath perfume, sprays

perfume, and a perfume exciting to open on Christmas morning.

Thorne imports, like Parfums Weil "Secret of Venus," time of year. If you buy the perfume off for $5, you get

Carven's "Rose du Soir," "Ma Griffe," "Vert et Bleu," are so sophisticated as ever.

Monsieur Lanvia's "Finger Lamp" is a reproduction of a silver Christmas ribbon tied in a knot with long, frantically purple ear-holds dangling from each ear. Happy New Year!

Marcel Roche's "Presentation Box" is a fine lime colored Acque di Colonia Freses is Marlene. Charming and the newest after-shave of the season.

Marsh and Thorne like that caged "Jaguar" of Yardley's — one that comes in a case marked "DANGER" — will bring him time but real, rich, pinkish show him!

English Leather is another of the shelf furnishers command Thorne, and Marsh suggest Thorne's "Pub" in its most honest English leather. Hand-made that dark brown "on-a-rope". KEEP ME WARM
At Home or Abroad. All this leads to — something to snuggle up to. "At Home" the color of your skin, distinguished from boudoir clothes, so we'll draw just a faint smile from the ladies.

The true aristocrat is Edith's Dynasty Chinese brocade. It's green and gold, lined with emerald silk. It's fitted, coachman style and sweeps to the floor. Collar is mandarin, tailoring impeccable. The "Ginger Rogers" outfit

The Pleasure of Your Attendance . . .

Christmas, 1866, is a glittery frolic of color, shine and sparkle. You'll have a very special New Year's Eve in any of these:

Bamberger's: We begin with the wild west in town: a complete collection of silver Christmas ribbon tied in a knot with long, frantically purple ear-holds dangling from each ear. Happy New Year!

Fliegenglass Sample: Bassett Streetwear were there again with their hot pink skirt, bright Kelly empire top and white collar with bow.

Fredrick's: American Beauty with long, princess-like square neck, lace-trimmed, exquisitely-worsted.

Clothesline: Cotton damask skirt with "velveteen shells" in happy colors; rose-red, gold-damask with rast top, for example, $40.

Weathershaw: Hot yellow (for hunter pink!) wool crepe dress with a pink belt, Anika, deep decolletage with two rhinestone buttons for trim, $50.

Elliott: Sari silk cocktail dress in shocking pink with gold-handled hem. U-neckline and gold shoulder bow.

Saks Fifth Avenue: A wide variety of sequin strips shaded from black to silver, $80.

Balter's: Long, simple white dress with empire top all white sequins. U-neckline and deep back, $29.95.

Nassau Street Dress Shop: Bright rose-red on a black-on-black pattern with a wide ruffled neckline on an off-the-shoulder, short or straight to the knee, handed with gold.

Nevius-Voorhees: Aqu chiffon, flowing to the floor like a full-length poncho, over a straight underdress, $12.95.

Mayne Mead: Air France blue (silk, but not navy) silk in size 10, sleek to the floor with nothing but flowing lines. Batiste neck in front, wide square decolletage in back leading to back skirt fullness.

Edith: A long, light and dainty crepe dress at hem and cuffs of long tight sleeves with black marlboro. The marlboro goes on through the waist, with a wide ruffled neckline in end in a pointed collar. Wear it with one of Thorne's long, lined jackets. $60. For the robe, not the holder! Edith's tailored brushed ay-tan with gold trim down the front is for different occasions. You'll like it in bright blue, $15. And for the hat, $12.50.

Stay: Bright rose-pink Hong Kong brocade three-piece suit handed with one-inch pink satin like the solid-pink satin overblouse. Jacket is cut like a mandarin, with a wide ruffled neckline, short or straight to the knee, handed with gold.

Campus Girl: At Landau's the quilted robes are nylon Kreel fiber fill as light and warm as a blanket of snow. Solid silk, $10.95. Satin, $11.95. Print of roses, $10.95. One long robe at Landau's is arm's sleeve with decorative collar, $12.95.

Black, pink or blue, and its name is . . . "Campus Girl."

Vigoda: makes Clinton's short, wide-sleeved green and blues are piped in satin, $30. You may like it in blues and purples. Warm and soft in either combination.

Bamberger's: Bright black velvet pants are topped by denim waist ponover handed with narrow black velvet ribbon. It's a great look for the outfit.

For a change of pace, wear the black velvet hostess robe with its ornate lace collar.

Blair: The famous la la in a bright red brushed aramel with gold straight down the front, and a wide ruffled neckline in a bow at the neck. The kelly green one has a knee slit, edged with gold.

A quilted robe in royal blue, has a Henley neckline and double-breasted cloaking. Bailey's very, very pale green-blue-yellow floral action for the holidays.

At Nevius-Voorhees: The youngsters are very young in mind. Their robes are quite colorful. We did see a variegated green and red robe, named in a man's robe, Eased out to the floor.

Time for Bed: One gown at Nevius-Voorhees shows a provocative shoulder with a single side ruffle. The other shoulder has the brunt of a wide, diagonal ruffle. The good part is . . .

Brilliant Lemon: Yellow is a startling refresher in the lingerie department. Nevius-Voorhees has a short gown with ruffles everywhere. The long, black gown lined with blue and white, $15.95. The fleece gown with a posie of embroidery. Like contrast?

Slippers: gown and robe all matched. Bally's. Here's a matching color-block set with wide neckline and satin embroidery. The gown-robe set is $15.95. The slippers, $3.95. A pemboire, $1.95. And stockings, $1.95.

shift gown set in white, with wide lace bertha in white, is $13. Bailey's has a blue Christmas giving is blue, white or gold brocade edged with satin and hanging from a yoke $3.98.

Why not a little bed-jacket for Sunday morning reading in bed? Bailey shows you one with a becoming lace yoke above patch pockets. $12. Another bed-jacket is brushed chenille with a round collar and embossed floral pattern $8.

Peppermint stripes in blue (blue peppermint!) mark Edith's new Christmas pajamas, trimmings at the edge of the sleeves and around the yoke. Pink or yellow, $4.50.

Brown or brown-on-ecru suds up to: nightgown, half slip, bra, petticoats, panty girdle with lace edging. $4.50. Where were Edith's, of course?

French Shop's pajamas, now $10.50, are made of fine print, inflammable as can be.

Two of everything: Edith's matches a short, fitted and quilted robe in orange, with a matching goodnight cap, and Gown at $11, robe is $25.

The same orange and how combinations have been used for a long fitted robe and two gowns: a long orange off-the-shoulder gown ($12) that ties down the low back ($17) or a long all-yellow gown with smocked square yoke. $18.

Sunset, for Sleep, a wash of sunset colors, is Edith's brief print short robe with low, rounded neckline with a lace bow. It's a full robe, too, goes full length $18.50 and goes with a butterfly gown all wings and yards of flutterfulness ($15).

St. Simeon's has a plain ever yellow to make a full short gown bordered with yellow cutouts on the sides and back in back with a yellow satin tie ($23). An amusing gown at Stacey's is white brocade front and with a lace neckline, short full skirt, long sleeves and wide sailor collar! It has a red and white striped dickey, of all things.

"Men buy it and the ladies bring it back," that's what they say at Landini's about a very cheery-looking men's robe with leather straps and net overlay. The ladies exchange it for the pink one when husbands die — it's a red and black overcoat. We'll keep the black, daddy. $8.

Clayton's short, full-skirted gown is black, lace-trimmed with blue over blue brocet making the skirt. Van Raalte, $25. Don't forget the men's robe, a brushed nylon shortie with its raglan-sleeved design and lace-trimmed scalloped hem $13.

What could be a more welcome and economical gift than Bailey's Artemis white angora-style pullover? $10. And it's the tailored white one with shadow panel all around, for $3.98.

Stone wants you to put all these tiny lovelies in your coordinated lingerie: white with white scalloped pink roses, perhaps. There's a set of dreams to name jewelry, too.

FOOT WARMERS

To Slip On. Slippers may be Clayton's, $2.50, in tan, worn brown, pink blue or white. $12.95. Nasoma Shoe Tree keeps a toe warm with a soft sole and Bernardo's thong sandal held to your toe with a T of rhinestones. $1.50. "I'm not a lame mule, dear — a lame-mule mule" has a little low neck and you won't trip on the heavy-knit rug.

A golden velvet cavalier's boot is out at the Shoe Tree in all sizes, lacing. It sweeps high up on the instep, with a slash in the side, and a buckled gimp boot. Heel is a fashionably dandy Louis. In a combination of royal and dove, too.

The Harlequin is just that: a double calico in half-inch diamonds of velvet on a jester of a shoe.

Shoe Tree keeps warm in the tie-moc a grosgrain tie-

The Harlequin, however, against the warmth of a broiled fire, all are done in fleece, very coy or honeyed shades of pink, yellow, turquoise, emerald, the whole in belief that the Harlequin is a foot warmer.

Technicolor '66 — All over the Lot

Dark glasses are the only possible accessory for shopping this Christmas, you never saw so much color, such wild color, such swoops of color...

LaVale, Garnet, aquamarine, amethyst, turquoise, reddish-orange, emerald, topaz, sapphires, and pearls, $16.95.

Effe: Cutout suit by Bob/Mich in art nouveau orange, purple, emerald. A sleeveless top gathers snugly to the throat.

Technicolor Clothing: Wild paileuses and paisley polkadots in men's tapered boxer shorts.

Stacy: Flamingo-mango draped over one shoulder of a winged, high-necked chiffon dress.

Westervane: Hot pink, green-blues and wild blue in a variety of prints, sequins, and cutouts. Sequin top is long and colorful, shirky, $75.

Clayton's: It's a fused Christmas tree ornament: hot pink, lime and molten gold in a metallic brocade evocative of Christmas.

Nassau Shoe Tree: Flowers wildly ablaze on a pair of black silk evening pumps.

Edith's: Kelly double cloth, hotpink, green, worn with a matching belt. You can have a low neckline bound with sequins on satin, voluminous blouse.

Cummins: Earrings, dangling in shocking pink plastic, red, with purple and orange to keep the pink company. $3.

Florina: Coat: Cool red, hot pink, thrashing in Italian, Indian purple, a striped velvet cocktail shift, by Leo Narducci, $55.

Princeton Gift: Brilliant enamel and gold in Italian, silver and enamel pins.

Hartinger's: Sequin-covered sleeveless top for an evening skirt with sequin in every light and color of the rainbow.

shaggy red lynx for sports and fun, or a mink head scarf with a fur attached to a green or white felt base. Wear it tight under the chin, or pull it tight at the back, for chills in the air.

At Clayton's the mink toque comes from Denmark. Mink toques make another toque, this one with a top pointed like a moquette. The lynx at Clayton's is a fun-fur in mottled tan for only $30. You can have a fur attached to a green or white felt base. Wear it in black toque with belt in back, $10.35.

With any of these, carry your Italian mink to the nice great big Renaissance-Baroque-Ciociari stones set into the wrought silver handles to the wrought silver Ribbons and Belts. For fun and flair, wear Stacy's black ribbed jacket from Gerro of California. It has elbow-length sleeves, a belt, a single button, $55. French Shop frames your face in a black velvet hood lined with black and striped silk, $16 and $10.

If she's young and eager-eyed, buy her French Shop's white lapin, soft pure as a first formal. It's just a shoulder wrap with a bow clasp, $29.

This is the Year of the Goat, Year 10, on Washington's birthday, shearing lamb seven-eighths length. Dark brown, simple, snappy and warm for $21.95.

Camels are coming at The English Shop where a simple polo coat classic is now made for women by Baron Anderson of Boston, $10.

From Landau, there is a zip-lined raincoat, even in petite sizes, in a variety of colors, besides traditional beige. The shell is wash-wear, the lining is oiled pile $35.

Over the Arm. More handbags than you ever saw, on the Ladybug's shelf! Most are like the one with two outside leather bags on the same bag. If you see what we mean. A shoulder bag is a flat leather on one side to hug your hip. Looks rather like a woman's bust.

A fat little leather pouch is jaw-wideningly cute, and a light chain to go with it. A light-colored suit, unusual in the dark linen-leather feel of Almer.

Almer-Voorhees, it is Almer, too. Here we like the one that's all leather, every single glancing inch with nonsense about lines.

Snake Charmer. Nassau has a leather belt with brass buckle, tailored and handled, $25. This is a square-shouldered sort of belt, with a wide center and more rounded treatment.

From France, Shee's has leather belts, white, black, square and chiseled for $18. A minute bag with a tiny row of brass chips, a gold chain handle, $25. A black leather-spattered black eel bag with leather handle.

A row of brass shows against the deep brown of another Shoe Tree bag at $16, with envelope closing.

Soft goat leather bags are at Princeton. These have a leather strap, a leather belt, a leather chain, Quilted leather bags have a chain and reptile bags in black have a handle just like the bag.

Donna Shop's bags are straight from the Orient, made one at a time with belt and buckle as though it yearned to go around your waist.

Country Mouse follows history with documentary bags, most in leather, some with braid or carriage-makers, blacksmiths and such like, are memorized on one door. Some bags are like spring bags, black styles or fresh florals. And do you know? The tiny bags are modestly priced, modest prices like $1.25 or so, are marvelous when you don't want to risk the loss of something so precious. Some bags are black-gold brocade fine enough for evening, (terrible for a young girl) and some bags — you know how they can get lost).

A travel mirror by Triana at Thorne's tips into a round floral frame, rather like a flowered panel.

For luggage for ladies, we send you to Newville, where you will find a collection. Why not a square jewel-mock up ease to add to her travel list? It's like a little suitcase, gage, by the way. Sure would show up at a baggage counter in some terminal...

Huliti's reminds us that no lady ever has enough books, so there are many, many books. Golot starts at the ankle and goes all the way to the knee. The Golo Tassel is a black-striped white tassel, and the Golo comes in brown and black, too.

Eskilson, at Huliti's and St. Tree, are all waterproof; all 100% cotton and lined against the thermometer.

The handkerchief to slip into hot-top or carmion comes from Masters by way of Stone's. These works of art in $5 and $6.50, have hand-woven stripes and solid colors. And the $13 handkerchief is white, has white embroidered flowers. It's almost a bride's handkerchief.

Fine French earrings for conservatively dressed ladies, fashioned from antique gold powders or turned circles brightened with a baton of jade. These earrings are $15.00.

Charms at The Watch Shop are silver or gold. What we mean by this is that the charm is for a chain, not a chain for false eyelashes. You bathe with it?

But there's a warning on the label. This clever charm is for a chain, not a chain for real hair, not false eyelashes made of silk.

Can't be helped, kids: if your lashes are mink, you'll just have to go directly to the eye doctor.

1 WANT EMERALDS

Diamonds on the Side. "Of course, it's $1,000, but darling, it's SO PRETTY!" It's LaVake's bracelet, set in a platinum band.

They wouldn't even tell us the price of a plain bracelet, although it's a diamond and sapphires. Maybe they'd tell you incidentally, if your sapphires are blue. They'd tell you that first bracelet is only $1,800.

Bangle bracelets at LaVake's, plain and very pretty, are thin. They can also be had in silver, gold, or silver over silver. One Florentine finish, is star-studded with diamonds.

If you're a LaVake customer, a plain sterling or gold bangle, they'd be delighted. These are $10 to $150.

A bracelet with a watch inside, all covered up, is $530. This bracelet is round and flexible, with a dial and an interesting raised pattern, although there are many styles.

LaVake's Tiger man (you have to compare that in Princeton) is gold with black stripes. He has a big and strong tail, and his stripes are thick. They do not flash on and off.

$135. Another pin — no tiger, this time — is a 12 mm wide boy in marquis and diamond. Boy diamonds is $3,800. Maybe that, instead of that bracelet.

Ye, Ye. Most watches and mod. straps go out at The Watch Shop, except for the leather straps which keep pace with shipments. If you're over 21, skip this part and read about the $2,800 pin above.

A mod watch, one-inch-plus in width with a strap as wide as the watch face by means. We saw straps at The Watch Shop in wine suede, paisley-and-leather, and any combination of stripes. The watches are $14.95.

These mod straps show up in leather, too, because they are pure, pure leather.

Back to The Watch Shop. We find Langines non-mods starting at $82.50 for a true life-time watch. Wittnauers begin at $99.95.

Everything has gone full circle. Now it's hard to buy carnations, and the new Touch-Tone market. Watch Shop has some charming is a pair of tiny charming earring. They would be exquisite on a Madonna.

David's silver pendants are geometric with stones that are rough-hewn but the net effect is sophistication. The pendant is a lion, Danish but is really Mexican. The egg-shaped drop is in different sizes, on each side, dressed in a wide silver frame.

Christmas Earrings. They play games at Cummins, with kooky plastic earrings so bright they look like luminous Christmas lights. Almost hook into your belt. Pink squares! In green centers!

A lovely black Wedgwood intaglio has a frame of Victorian gold around the oblong $65. Non-Wedgwood, but just Imagine that it's two o'clock in the morning — and your child is sick . . .

It's pretty frightening isn't it? We think hospital and we first think danger.
But think again — the calm, professional security.
There is no substitute for this kind of help.

And your hospital has no substitute for your kind of help. Unfortunately, for hospital finances, it's all too often "two o'clock" in the morning. Right now Princeton Hospital is asking for contributions for our Annual Capital Fund Appeal.

Our goal is $75,000. This money is to be used for essential equipment and to help amortize our loan. Please do what you can for us. Now.

We'll do our best when you need us. Anytime.

Question of the Week

Question: Next Wednesday December 7, marks the 25th anniversary of Pearl Harbor. Can you recall where you were and what your feelings were at the time?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

James Glavin, Somerville, salesman for Nini Plymouth: I can remember it exactly. I heard it on the radio. I was in a diner on Route 29 near Princeton. It really scared me. I remember thinking I had to sell my car because I would be going to the service. I was amazed at how many men came down, and I spent the war working in a factory for the Navy. I was shocked.

I don't think anyone else did either.

J. F. McNeerney, 49 Wiggin Street: I was reading the newspaper in New York at the time when this came on and I thought it was something comparable to Orson Welles' War of the Worlds broadcast. At the time I did not have the full impact of what this would mean to us. I followed it in the room at the time and he said "There you go" and I went straight there after work for 50 miles over Europe. I was no hero. I was lucky.

Abe Burger, 834 Kingston Avenue: I was invited to a banquet the night before, the annual banquet of No. 1 Firehouse—the first Saturday in every month—and I was still there.

John H. Berger, 834 Kingston Avenue: I was invited to a banquet the night before, the annual banquet of No. 1 Firehouse—the first Saturday in every month—and I was still there.

there Sunday cleaning up when one of the members came back crying. When he told us why he was crying, he said, "Turn on the radio!" I was in Washington at the time. I turned on the radio and was shocked. I had made a career of it. As far as my feelings about Pearl Harbor, I was shocked. But I didn't think it would be as bad as it was.

Jerry Lackland, North Brunswick: Shipping Clerk for Langenbach Paper Company, working in the Bethlehem Steel shipyard in Staten Island. I was working there when I heard the news and I figured we were in it and I had to go. I was a member of the 20th Inf. Regt. Reserve and our outfit was alerted. I was definitely shocked... everything seemed to go wrong at the time. The Japanese Ambassadors were in Washington supposedly peace-keeping. It was a short time.

Larry York, Trenton, portor, Princeton University: I was living in North Carolina and I heard it on the radio. I was shocked. I was not knowing the situation. I was afraid they might keep coming right on to this country.

Abe Premer, 244 Nassau Street, barber for Bialto Barber Shop: I was in New York and I remember it came as a shock to me. I was in the service. I was in the service for 40 months on account of it and I was a wife and three kids at the time.

Nicholas Chisano, Morrisville, Pa., owner of Bialto Barber Shop, 128 Nassau Street: I was home in Trenton and I heard it on the radio. I felt pretty bad about it because I didn't want to see a war. It was a Sunday, so I remember that some people were saying it could only be the Japanese who would strike on a Sunday when everyone was in church.

Harrison Young, 130 Longview Drive, technical recruiter. Yes, I remember it quite well. It was a Sunday afternoon. We had just turned the radio on and it was practically silent. That's what we heard. The first thing was one of shock, no question about that, but the second, almost immediately, was the synd that first point of shock was a tremendous annoyance and hostility. This is it!

Harold Karp, 138 Stockton Street, London, I was in Indonesia. My father was employed there. I was only about 12 and my mother was working there. The Japs were coming in our direction, too. They did catch up to us and we were in a boat all night. My father and younger brother, we were all separated. We were lucky though. All we got out.

Henry Roy, Trenton, Princeton taxi driver: I lived in Trenton and I remember it was a Sunday afternoon. I was in my house. My housekeeper came up and said "The Japs have bombed Pearl Harbor." I was completely surprised. I was especially happy when the Japs had been talking peace in Washington at the time.

R. H. Ellis, Garden City, L.I., construction superintendent: My reaction was one of astonishment. I never expected that anybody expected a sneak attack like that. I was in New York when the news came over the radio.

SPORTS In Princeton

HOW GOOD ARE TIGERS
Early Line Available. The top-grade Princeton basketball team where basketball has been a winter way of life ever since Bill Bradley was a player. They will tell you that Princeton is on the verge of an era in the sport that will at least match the days of the three-time All-American was here.

They point to the balance and the depth of this year's squad, and then suggest that if you want to know what they can do, you take a look at the Class of 1967. "Best freshman team in Princeton history," they will tell you, "before the season has even opened."

The more conservative estimate is that the potential is high but a wait-and-see attitude is best. Even those who are waiting for proof in the form of early-season games say that the highly regarded opponents admit that there is sufficient all-around ability so that the Tigers will be well-represented in many ways as they were during the bright Bradley era.

Princeton opens in Dillon Gym this Thursday at 8 against Lafayette, which generally has been one of the elite basketball teams two years earlier, the Tiger freshmen will play in the early-year quiescence of the winter of Bradley's freshman year. The Gym is likely to be well-filled before this one is over.

Princeton players to watch are 6-3 Jeff Petty, 6-7 John Hummer and 6-8 Joe Matty. Petty, a native of Indiana, was a star at the state's Indiana University. Hummer, younger brother of 500-game baseball captain, picked Princeton over Duke, perennial leader in the tough Ivy League, and the one he chose was all-state in Virginia, as was Marty in New Jersey. The third was also selected by the automobile's Hall-of-fame in college, and the fact that all three chose Princeton had off-set the loss of the one he was looking at a high pitch last spring and summer.

Three out of five away from Princeton's first five games, three are on the road — at Villanova, Army and Davidson. While Army and Villanova are not expected to be as strong as Princeton has been recently, there is a major home court advantage for the teams and the Tigers will improve if they manage to win at HELL START THIS WEEK ART Junior John Harlow, last of the tall, will start as forward this season for the Tigers. In a reserve capacity last winter, he averaged in double figures in his debut, scoring 10 points to beat Harvard, 55-56, after the buzzer had sounded.

Both West Point and on the Main Line, and Colgate, due next week from Friday, should be easier to handle, with the trip to Charlotte to follow. The first game of the year, a mark as high as 4-1 in these first few contests will indicate that the team is on its way. A mark as high as 4-1 in these first few contests will indicate that the team is on its way. Chris Thomford, 6-9 at center and Gary Walker, 6-7 at forward, are the two new comers. Heisser at 6-2 is as tall as the forwards on many another college team. The 5-11 Mike Hickey, letterman, will quarterback the offense and provide invaluable leadership. The team is built downcourt if the opposition attempts any sort of press.

Final Figures Tell a Strange Tale

The most interesting story about three football teams, each of which won six Ivy League games and lost one to finish in a three-way tie for the championship. Overall, one of them (Harvard) had an 8-1 season, the other two (Dartmouth and Princeton) had 7-2 seasons, and all three were bunched in winning percentages as three teams equal.

The fact that Dick Colman's Tigers pulled themselves steadily upward to the top of the ladder, after they convulsed to defeat the runner-up last year, is the most amazing part of the final statistics compiled for the three teams. It is, in effect, a picture of sharp contrast: devastating offensive ability at both ends of Harvard's field; a single, determined effort of the opposition into the ground; and an inexperienced, constantly rebuilding attack at Princeton's, whose razor-thin margins over the opponents were matched by a highly successful season by a skilled defensive unit.

The table below shows how Dartmouth and Harvard were generally able to grind the other teams into submission, outgassing them by nearly 100 yards of half a mile and outscoring them by an average of 15 points a game (Dartmouth to nearly 200, Harvard). Only in its passing attack was Duke more than matched for the extreme ability John Yovich's operations showed in running with the ball. On the other hand, the Tigers' single-deep defense was an opportunity for the opposition to score. They had an average of 3.5 points a game, and to win seven out of nine by doing so.

Bear in mind that the figures given for each team show the net difference between its fall-season totals and the combined offense of its nine opponents:

	Dartmouth	Harvard	Princeton
Yards Gained Rushing	+104	+135	+195
Yards Gained Passing	+21	-93	-372
Total Offense	+1067	+1243	-176
Touchdowns	+20	+25	+3
Total Points	+148	+171	-27

The offensive power reflected in the first two columns was not matched in defensive achievement. Harvard's 269-yard average in rushing topped the entire nation, and right behind the Crimson was Dartmouth with its 253.3 average. The Indians were third ranked in the country, and their offense, the best of all, had an average of 44.3 yards per game was almost 100 ahead of runner-up Penn and not too far from double that of Princeton's 25.6, which was good for tenth place.

Small wonder that there is a general feeling which says, in a close game—or race—pick the team with the best defense.

Seton Hall Defeated. It was these five players who handily Seton Hall with ease during a 20-0 victory. The one in which no score was kept but which left no doubt as to the superior team. The Breitbach, the principal critic of the Tigers was their consistency. The results of completed execution of the action were followed by stretches of distinctly sleepy play.

Early in the season, it was felt that Princeton will not be markedly weak anywhere along the line. People thought that height, the Tigers can run and all three big men have good stamina. They are all good ball handlers and are strong, particularly in Thomsford's case, when so many players 6-8 and taller lack sure hands.

What's more, all five can shoot. With Haarlow joining

Gates and Heiser as good outside shots, and Thomsford and Karpis good free-throwers,

it will face a zone defense that it so frequently met last year's low-scoring team.

Finally, in the event of injury or foul-trouble, the thin lineup of the Princeton Bobbs Brown will step in for Thomsford

when needed, Bill Koch and Al

Heiser both being experienced reserves, forwards and

Larry Luechino and Dave Lawrence are also available for backcourt assignments. In fact, these five might well be able to handle the situation readily in the absence of the Tigers opponents this season.

It will, actually, not be until late in the season that Princeton can be sure of another Ivy title can be accurately meaured. Columbia and Cornell are the Tigers' strongest opponents, and the individual contests between the Orange and Black against either of them until late February, when four back-to-back games with them will be played.

Van Brede Koell admits, however, being "an optimist," a forthright and refreshing attitude in an era of pessimism. Most coaches claim that "any finish above the 500 mark on record books is a success."

Harvard, on the other hand, has been steadily improving into the ground; and the opposition to the Tigers

is not what it was in 1967

when they won a highly successful season by 41.

Terry Peterman and Ben Fuller are the wings. Peterman was one of the top two members of last year's team (6-12-1) with 29 points, 20 of which were assists.

An sophomore line centered by Dick Johnson, line centered by Jonathan Taylor and Denny Grandine will be the backbone of the ice at the first change-over. The durable John Rithie will center another line on which sophomore Greg Higgins and sophomore Jerry Tierney will skate. Indicative of better-than-average play, the Blue and White fielded a fourth line; sophomore Peter Stuecky at center, Charlie MacMillan and Marion Young on the wings.

Four Princeton alumni return to current skating for the St. Nick's, who with their hands had an all-Cook line but had Pete fractured his wrist while playing Army at Yale. The returning seniors are Johnny and Steve Cook are wearing Green and White, as are Buzz Hall, past captain, and Harry Rulon-Miller.

The Nicks have 2-1 record over their Army and Yale, their credit records are markedly stronger than they were a year ago. Bob Gaudreau, Princeton's best all-around man, is playing for them, and Dave Ferguson, star of Brown, is in the goal.

Princeton's complete 1966-67 schedule:

Dec. 1, St. Nick's H. C., T. Army at West Point; 10, Boston College; 15, Providence College; 17-20, ECAC Holiday Festival; 23, Princeton at West Orange, N. J.

OPENER WEDNESDAY

For Princeton Terriers, a pair of PHS girls will mark the opening hockey contest between Princeton High School and Cranford High School, to be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at Lavine Rink.

First, after three years as a club, the game will mark the team's first as officially a co-ed team, with girls from the high school. Second, it will mark the debut of its new coach, Pete Miller, third-year coach at Princeton University from 1957-58.

For the first year, the Little Tigers will play 17 games, which Cook remarked, "is a lot for a high school team." Ten of the last 11 will be play-at home. The new Princeton Day Park. A jayvee contest pre-School rink now in the final coding the stage of construction. Fourteen players will be on the ice at Baker Rink. In addition to its opener with Lawrenceville, PHS will play its first two contests at Montclair High School on January 3 and January 26 at South Orange.

Under way come in January when the Blue and White can use the new PDS rink for ice skating. The Blue and White will let its practice sessions to three mornings a week (starting at 6 a.m.) at Baker Rink. Cook was able to conduct its first workout until Monday, which left him only eight days to get ready for Lawrenceville. The Blue and White had an all-Cook line but had Pete fractured his wrist while playing Army at Yale. The returning seniors are Johnny and Steve Cook are wearing Green and White, as are Buzz Hall, past captain, and Harry Rulon-Miller.

The Nicks have 2-1 record over their Army and Yale, their credit records are markedly stronger than they were a year ago. Bob Gaudreau, Princeton's best all-around man, is playing for them, and Dave Ferguson, star of Brown, is in the goal.

Couch Declines Comment
The team did not hold practices over the holiday weekend and the coach, who had little chance to evaluate what has been coming up. He does not expect to make any comments on the team.

In the past three seasons, the Little Tigers have posted records of 10-10, 12-8 and 8-10 for an overall 33-32 effort. However, in spite of its 50-50 record, the coach has guided his team to important wins early in the campaign to earn a spot in the North 40 post-season tournament. In each of the previous two seasons.

Whether or not the Blue and White can do it a third time will depend largely on the talent of those coming up to give Wood and Volz a hand, and how soon Borzok can pick the five who will work together.

Education Bill Supported.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

There will be coming up for vote in the Senate and Assembly within the next week

new Department of Higher Education, with its own bureau to control general and higher education in New Jersey.

The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Community has studied the problems of higher education in New Jersey intensively over the last year and has recommended this bill. Our support rests on the following considerations:

1. New Jersey is unique in having education unique, in that it ranks fourth in the nation in her capital income, yet 47th in per capita income. This is due to the fact that we pay more for our education. Indeed, 50% of our college-bound youth must go outside the State for higher education. There are not enough places for them within the State. If we are to increase our numbers, we are probably turning away, plus the increased numbers being graduated every year. This is why our schools must expand our facilities; by 1975 to take care of 130,000 full-time students vs. the present 100,000.

2. The present State Board of Education is confronted with the task of directing with skill and imagination a public school system involving 1.5 million pupils in 580 schools in 21 counties with a total annual budget of $600 million.

The burdens imposed by this task will not lessen the demands already made upon the Board. We urge the Board to make arrangements for any additional strength for any single Board and Commissioner of Education to carry.

3. The development and expansion of a state university education entitles us of the magnitude now existing in New Jersey demands focused, high-level, specialized educational training under a Board whose members have experience, wisdom and talent and are willing to commit considerable time and attention in the task.

4. The experience of other states and other countries indicates that the advantages of a separate Board of Higher Education. In 1950 in the United States there was no statewide organization of higher education, while today only about a dozen states have such a board—and most of these are small states.

We, therefore, urge all public-spirited citizens to write to their State Senator and Assemblymen asking their support of S434.

President, Princeton

As the holiday season approaches we want to express these thoughts which are on the minds and hearts of us all.

The Vietnam war causes more and more of our young people to be engaged in the fighting, results in mounting casualties and has produced over one million homeless refugees. We believe that these facts call for a special frame of mind at all times but particularly in the coming weeks: An appropriate restraint in our spending and in our festivities, a more prayerful concern for seeking ways toward peace and a personal sacrificial gift to the refugee relief program of our individual religious group.
